Internet Based Anonymous Online Reporting System

What does the Students Who Care Online Reporting System do for you and your community?

- Keeps your schools safe from unexpected incidents that may occur without ever knowing it was going to happen. Provides your students with a safe environment and a peace of mind.
- It brings a reporting system to the arena where students hang out: “The Internet”
- Brings Parents, Police, and School Administrators together forming an alliance for the same cause. “School Health and Safety”.
- It allows your students and their parents to share concerns.
- Anonymous Reporting where reports can be generated from any computer connected to the Internet. (Yes, but abuse proof!)
- Provides a positive public image to local business’ and community knowing they to can help make a difference.

What is the “Students Who Care” Reporting System?

The Students Who Care reporting system enables schools to empower their students in the proactive mission to prevent school violence. Students Who Care enables students to anonymously and easily report rumors or threats of violence, bullying, drug abuse, or other threatening activities they become aware of to officials and concerned administrators within their own school district or community. Using Students Who Care, teachers, principals, school safety officers, members of a "crisis response team," all may be the "first to know" and have time to respond before violence has the opportunity to occur.

We believe that students are the key to helping prevent school violence. Often, students will not come forward to report a possible threat of violence out of fear of mockery or reprisal. Students Who Care will allow them the anonymity they desire all the while enabling them to make a difference that truly counts. Schools may use Students Who Care within school property just as easily as making a report from the privacy of their homes.

Resources are needed to help get this program into reality for our students. Your help is greatly needed.
